

Press release - English

On Saturday 6 April and Sunday 7 April 2019 one of the oldest and biggest Tattoo Conventions of the Benelux will take place at Antwerp harbor (Belgium). The current 20th edition of the Antwerp International Tattoo Convention will be, similar to previous conventions, held at the Hangar 29 – Waagnatie (Rijnkaai 150 Antwerp) facility.

Recent years of the conventions show a growing number of visitors and participants what possible has to be seen in the philosophy of this event. The Antwerp Tattoo Convention tries to be as approachable as possible for all kind of tattoo enthusiasts. The convention stands out with a variety of musical and visual entertainment that appeals to a wide range of public and brings a family friendly atmosphere. Every year the conventions tries to bring new artists on stage. Many of the artists, traders and craftsman the convention welcomes each year started their career at Antwerp's convention.

The 20th edition of the Antwerp Tattoo Conventions shows a down to earth principle to the Tattoo and Piercing scene of the region. No radical changes to lure the public with hypes or temporary attention. The steady course made the convention grow over the last years. The every year growing number of national and international artist, from all parts of Europe to South America and beyond, participation in the convention give a international allure to the convention what attracts a wide range of branch related traders to the Antwerp Convention. Despite of the economic crisis in Europe the conventions tries to costs low and is able to facilitate a family friendly event from enthusiasts for enthusiasts that is available to wide public, now and the years to come.
